

Bob has over 30 years of sailing at some of the highest levels of our sport. He has given performance instrument seminars at shows, clubs and events all over the country and held jobs at the three major performance sailing instruments companies: nke, B&G and Ockam.

Bob is currently with Euro Marine Trading Inc. of Newport RI and is the North American sales manager for nke Marine Electronics. He is bringing his wealth of experience using leading edge sailing instruments to JFest Southwest for your benefit.

Bob's presentation will focus on instrumentation in general, and not brand specific. Whether you have an advanced performance package or a simple speed depth & wind system, you will learn what to expect of your instruments and how to maximize their potential.

Are you interested in polars but don't know how to use them? Ask Bob. Popular tactical software packages will be discussed and compared. Take the voodoo out of calibration and learn to trust your numbers at JFest Southwest this October!
